

MCMAHON
FRED

DIRECTOR, CENTRE FOR TRADE AND GLOBALIZATION STUDIES
Fraser Institute, Canada

Education:

BA, McGill University, Montreal, MA, McGill University, Economics

Professional Experience:

Fred McMahon directs the Centre for Globalization Studies at The Fraser Institute. The Centre publishes The Economic Freedom of the World: Annual Report and coordinates the Economic Freedom Network of independent think tanks in 76 nations. He directs the Fraser Institute's Global Centre for Mining Studies and coordinates The Fraser Institute's Annual Survey of Mining Companies.

He has authored several books including, Looking the Gift Horse in the Mouth: The Impact of Federal Transfers on Atlantic Canada, which won the Sir Antony Fisher International Memorial Award, Road to Growth: How Lagging Economies Become Prosperous, and Retreat from Growth: Atlantic Canada and the Negative Sum Economy.

Publications he has written for include the European Journal of Political Economy, the SAIS Journal, published by the Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) at Georgetown University, The Wall Street Journal, Policy Options, National Post, Time (Canada), Globe and Mail, and the Ottawa Citizen. Research articles he has authored or co-authored include: Economic Freedom of North America, The Fraser Institute Mining Survey, and Economic Freedom of the Arab World. He has also been the Economics Editor at the Bank of Canada, Canada's central bank. Prior to obtaining his MA in economics, he was a journalist, working with the Halifax Herald, the Montreal Daily News, and the Financial Post of Canada.